Clara Bailey Joins Brake Parts Inc as Sales Manager, Special Markets

MCHEMRY, III. – May 19, 2015 – Clara Bailey has joined Brake Parts Inc (BPI) as sales manager, special markets, it was announced today by Bruce Tartaglione, senior vice president of global sales and marketing.

In her new position, Bailey is responsible for the sales of BPI products to existing clients and prospecting for new clients with a focus on supporting their requirements and assisting them to grow their businesses.

“We welcome Clara to the Brake Parts Inc team and are pleased to have her on board as our new sales manager, special accounts,” said Robert Pitt, vice president, sales and global business development, Brake Parts Inc. “She brings a rich background in sales management to her new position and possesses strong leadership skills and a passion for her profession that will drive her focus towards achievement of corporate goals and objectives.”

For the past 11 years, Bailey has served as the regional sales manager for TYC/Genera. During that time, she was successful in developing new prospects and working with existing key accounts in different distribution channels throughout the U.S. Midwest and the Central Canadian markets. Bailey holds a master of business administration from the University of Illinois at Chicago.
